TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Payment is due within 30 days upon invoice date.

- *Responsible party/contracting party may bear additional charge for equipment recovery, labor and/or materials due to site conditions.
- *We bear no responsibility of property damage from our truck traffic on, during, and off the job site - Including drilling slurry and run off.
- *Not responsible for quality nor amount of water yielded.
- *Not responsible for any minerals - human made or naturally occurring.
- *Not liable for Ocean intrusion - the invoice will be billed at the rates, by the foot, outlined in the approved estimate
- *Not responsible for well collapse.
- *The estimated depths/materials needed are an estimate as the well depths and runs cannot be accurately determined before drilling.

*Should overburden be problematic, a specialized casing system will be required which will result in an increased drive shoe cost AND a surcharge of up to $3,000.00

*Should more or less drilling or material runs differ from the above estimate, the price will change +/- by the foot.

*Excavation nor insulation are included in any form unless specifically listed on the estimate/invoice. Should Excavation be included, understand that the final product will be rough raked and the ditch line may settle over time. "touch ups" are not included

* By accepting this estimate - the contracting/responsible party - understands that this estimate is just that, an estimate. Well drilling is inherently unpredictable in its nature, and while we use tools and experience to guide our estimates, invoices can vastly differ from the original estimate. Further, it is understood that increases to the cost of the well, pump installation, or other services, above that which was estimated, can occur without notice, including increases up to and exceeding 100 percent of the original estimate.

*Contractors and repeat Customers - By accepting this estimate, it is understood these terms and conditions will be used for all future work, in-cases where estimates are not utilized on specific jobs

You hereby jointly and severally promise to pay all amounts invoiced. You jointly and severally acknowledge that all bills are due payable within thirty (30) days of the end of the billing cycle. You also jointly and severally acknowledge that if the account has a balance over thirty (30) days, a monthly service charge of 1.5% per month (annual rate of 18%) will be computed on overdue balances and will be paid immediate as charged, along with any fees for collection for our account, including attorney fees.

You hereby personally, jointly and severally guarantee payment at all times. If this contract is agreed upon in the name of a corporation, the undersigned and the principals personally guarantee payments for amounts (including interest, collection fees and attorney fees) owed.

Estimates must be approved by the financially responsible party or whomever has authority to authorize work, prior to work beginning

Have a great day!
